KAMA SCHACHTER JEWELRY, INC. CERTIFIED BY THE RESPONSIBLE JEWELLERY COUNCIL

LONDON – The Responsible Jewellery Council (RJC) today announced that Kama Schachter Jewelry, Inc., the US jewellery manufacturer, has achieved certification meeting the ethical, human rights, social and environmental standards as established by the RJC’s Member Certification System.

“RJC is delighted to congratulate Kama Schachter Jewelry, Inc. on its certification. The successful verification assessment of Kama Schachter Jewelry, Inc. was conducted by Vidhi Aggarwal from SGS, one of the independent third-party auditing firms accredited to the RJC’s Member Certification System,” says Michael Rae, RJC’s Chief Executive Officer.

“Having the New York-based US division of Kama Schachter certified by RJC is a significant achievement in our company’s evolution as one of Asia’s largest manufacturers and exporters of diamonds and diamond jewelry. As our business expands rapidly in both developed and emerging markets, RJC certification in America, the world’s largest diamond jewelry market, will not only stand as a continuing reminder of the strong set of values and best practices that guide us in everything we do, but also as an unwavering standard for integrity in other markets we serve around the world,” says Colin Shah, CEO, Kama Schachter.

The NY-based company serves the needs of specialty jewellery chains and other classes of the fine jewellery trade throughout the United States. Kama Schachter USA not only offers a broad selection of unique pieces designed and crafted by master artisans using state-of-the-art technology, but has also designed, created and launched a successful portfolio of diamond jewellery brands targeting the discriminating needs of the American market.
